Problems will always be part of business

We are preparing your people to solve them.

The Bryan School’s Programs for Executive Education make the difference between a business that thinks it is prepared for problems and one that knows it is staffed for solutions.

Our Programs for Executive Education prepare employees to become better problem solvers by challenging them to think ethically, globally, innovatively and sustainably. We train them to become principled leaders who can make broader contributions to your organization immediately and continually.

Whether you are looking for one of our standard programs or a program customized to your company’s specific needs, the Bryan School offers flexible options. Our Program for Management Development (PMD) and Finance & Accounting for Non-Financial Managers (FANM), for instance, offer more established curriculums while our customized programs, training and workshops are developed to address your specific business challenges and training needs.

THE PROGRAM FOR MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT (PMD)

Knowing the right questions to ask is imperative for every successful manager. This program helps high-potential managers to become more effective leaders, to think ethically, globally, innovatively and sustainably, and prepares them to assume expanded roles within an organization. PMD is designed to cultivate a broader understanding of critical functions across an organization, strengthen management skills, refine problem-solving abilities and offer new perspectives managers can apply immediately to their particular role.

THE SPECIFICS

This 9-week course is delivered over 13 sessions, each lasting approximately 8.5 hours for a total of 110 hours of instruction. It is also available on a more condensed schedule and can be customized to meet specific needs. Tuition is $5,950 per person, and includes all materials, meals and campus parking.

The PMD qualifies CPAs to apply 40 hours toward their current year’s CPE license requirement and carry forward 20 additional hours to the following year.
