COURSE OBJECTIVES:

1. Describe the tools of strategic and competitive analysis in different industry contexts.
2. Demonstrate how to integrate strategic analysis, strategy formulation and strategy implementation in an organization.
3. Discriminate relevant from irrelevant information in company and industry case studies, and assess the activities of top managers that allow them to create sustainable competitive advantage for their companies.

EVALUATION AND GRADING:

Students will be evaluated according to their performance on the following components on the course: class participation, group case leadership, individual written case analysis, and a final exam focusing on the concepts from the textbook. The computation of students' average numerical score will be based on the following weighting scheme:

Assignment	Percentage of Grade
Class Participation	10
Team Case Leadership (2 cases total= 10 each)	20
Business Strategy Game Simulation	30
Quiz (5%)
Mission, vision & strategy statement (5%)
Strategic Plan (5%)
Simulation Performance (10%)
Written Report (5%)
Individual Case Analysis (your choice)	5
Individual Case Analysis 2 (google)	10
Final Examination	25
Total	100

The following grading scale will be used in this course:

Percentage	Grade
94 – 100	A
90 – 93.99	A-
86 – 89.99	B+
82 – 85.99	B
78 – 81.99	B-
70 – 77.99	C
< 70	F

TEACHING METHODS AND ASSIGNMENTS FOR ACHIEVING LEARNING OUTCOMES:

The delivery format of the course will involve a combination of lectures/discussions, case discussions of organizations from around the world, experiential exercises, and guest speakers from industry (if possible). Students are required to write a case analysis on an organization of their own choice selected from the available cases to be discussed in the course, as well as a mandatory case on Google. The final course grade is based on class participation, two written case assignments, team leadership of cases, the team company and industry project (the simulation game) and the performance on the final exam.

Class Participation

Due to the nature of the course, students are expected to come to the class with prior preparation. This is important as little can be gained from the class without such preparation. Students should therefore come to classes well prepared to share their thoughts and ideas with others in the class. The quality and quantity of contributions to the class discussions will determine the points awarded to each student.

Class participation has many facets in the course including:

- Attendance
- Courtesy (cell phones/pagers off; absence of extensive side conversations)
- Attentiveness (focus directed to whoever has the floor, not distracting others)
- Asking questions of groups leading in the discussion of case analyses
- Providing comments and critiquing reading materials
- Providing constructive comments and suggestions on cases
- Use of Laptop computers in class solely for the purpose of class activities that day. Note that if you're found using your computer for any other purpose, you'll lose all participation points for that day.

Note that if you attend all classes and do not provide comments, suggestions, or ask questions about the lectures and case presentations, or participate in class discussions, you will only receive a maximum of 50% of the class participation grade. If you only participate by providing comments and asking questions during lectures, you will receive a maximum of 70% for class participation grade. Participation in the case discussions is a pre-requisite for obtaining a grade better than a C in class participation. Class participation points will be awarded during every class session.

Group Case Leadership

Due to the size of the class, teams of 4-5 students each will be required to lead in the discussion of TWO assigned cases. The team will have ~30-40 minutes to deliver a traditional case analysis for the organization. Convey the big ideas by focusing on the most important issues in the case. You may bring in materials from other courses and from your own perusal of the supplementary readings and searches if they relate to the issues in the case (but try to stay within the timeframe of the case). Remember, the case is a summary already, don't present a summary of a summary!

The team should allow time for questions and answers, and comments from the students in the class regarding the issues, ideas, and recommendations they present. In other words, do not plan on presenting for more than 20-25 uninterrupted minutes (leave at least 15-20 minutes for questions and discussions). Grading of case leadership will be based partly on presentation and delivery (professionalism, clarity of speech, visual aids, coverage of major issues in case – 40%), and content of presentation (quality of analysis and recommendations – 60%). Submit a copy of the PowerPoint presentation online via Canvas by 12:00 midnight a day before the presentation.

Business Strategy Game Simulation

Your team will manage a company, which is required to make a set of decisions relating to the functional areas. To learn the simulation, you will need to read the Player's Guide thoroughly. To register for the BSG simulation, I will provide each student with his/her industry/company registration code on the first day of class after the formation of groups.

You will then have to go to www.bsg-online.com to register for the simulation exercise. You will need to complete the registration process by paying with a credit/debit card.

There will also be two practice rounds to help you familiarize yourself with the dynamics of the game. You will be evaluated on the following activities:

1. BSG Simulation quiz (one quiz, open-book, to be completed online by January 22 by midnight).
2. Initial statement of company mission, objectives and strategy (Due on February 12 online via Canvas): Present your company's mission, objectives and intended strategy. The strategy statements should not be more than FOUR pages, double-spaced, 12-point font, page-numbered and should have a cover page. Your statement should include but not limited to addressing the following questions:
 - What is the purpose of your company?
 - What are your company's performance targets or objectives and under what timetable?
 - What positions do you seek in the industry or market? What differentiates your company from your competitors?
 - How will you enable your company to achieve superior performance?
 - What is your plan for getting there? What trade-offs do you anticipate making?
 - How are you organizing your top management team? What roles is each person performing? How will you make team decisions?
3. Strategic Plan: The 3-Year Strategic Plan is a group assignment requiring each team to (1) state a strategic vision for the company, (2) establish performance objectives for each of the next three years, (3) set forth a strategy for the company, and (4) prepare a "pro forma" income statement for each of the next three years.

I will take the best of your two scores, as calculated from BSG. The first plan is due Feb. 26 by midnight and the second is due on the 26th of March, by midnight.

4. Overall performance: You will be awarded points based on how well your company met its different performance objectives in comparison with other companies in the same industry (class). Your company's performance will be based on five performance measures, with weights in parentheses. This score is calculated directly from BSG!

- Earnings per share (20%);
- Return on stockholders' equity (ROE) (20%);
- Stock price appreciation (20%);
- The company's credit rating (20%); and
- Corporate/brand image (20%).

5. Final Written Report (Due on April 23 online via Canvas):

Each team will provide a written report to its Board of Directors and investors/analysts about the company's efficiency and effectiveness in accomplishing its initial mission and objectives, and future prospects. The report should include the following in an integrated manner:

- Brief review of performance, comparing it with competitors.
- Comparison of actual strategies with intended strategy.
- Critical evaluation of actual and intended strategies and decisions within the context of the industry environment and the company's competitive resources and capabilities.
- Examination of top management team decision-making processes. What planning and decision process you used.
- Presentation of the general strategy you would use if the game was to continue for five more years into the future.
- Discussion of what you learned from the experience.

Present an honest and critical assessment of your team's successes and failures in the light of the dynamic business and economic environment, highlighting the important critical issues your team encountered.

The report should not be more than 10 pages (excluding any figures or tables, which must be placed in the appendix). The report must be double-spaced, font size 11 and above with 1 inch margins, page numbered, and must have a cover page. You will lose points equal to 5% of the BSG grade for each violation.

Individual Case Analysis

Every student will be required to prepare two written case analyses from the cases to be discussed in class.

Case 1:

An individual whose team is leading in presenting a particular case cannot write on that case. For example, Team 1 is scheduled to present the "Edward Jones" case; if you're a member of Team 1 you cannot submit an individual written analysis on the "Edward Jones" case. You should conduct a traditional individual written case analysis using the tools and techniques gained from this course and the balance of your MBA courses to provide a true capstone analysis. The written case must be professionally prepared and turned in latest at the beginning of the class period in which that particular case is being discussed.

Case 2:

Every student will turn in an individual case for the Google (final case).

The case analysis should be 5-7 pages in length (excluding any figures or tables), page numbered, double-spaced, font size 11 and above, and 1-inch margins. The case analyses reports should have a cover page. You will lose points equal to 5% of the written case grade for each violation. To spread the workload in grading the cases over the course of the semester, I will present a sign-up sheet for the case write-up on the first day of class. You will be graded on the thoroughness of your analysis and recommendations, reasoning ability, and writing.

Here are some general hints for preparing the individual case analysis

1. Avoid laundry list. Focus and organize your analysis. Look for a framework from the class that helps you to organize the analysis and presentation of the issues in the case.
2. Don't summarize the case. The case is a summary already, don't present a summary of a summary! Your client (and the instructor) is very familiar with the situation and requires further analysis. Your analysis should answer the "so what factor", which is common in most consulting assignments.
3. Consulting scenario. Know your client and always think about your client first. Your analysis should address issues that your client would be expecting in your report.
4. Use of pictorial illustrations. It is usually difficult to present a rigorous analysis and recommendation in 5-7 pages. Make use of pictorial illustrations (e.g., graphs, charts, tables, etc.) to summarize points.
5. Quantitative and qualitative analysis. Make sure you make use of the information in the case exhibits. Incorporate both quantitative and qualitative information in your case analysis (e.g., the use of ratio analysis). In order to do well, your recommendations must demonstrate some knowledge of how the financial outcomes/ market position would be impacted as a result of implementing your strategy.

Final Examination

This course will have a final examination which will be held on April 23, 2017. The examination will cover the concepts covered in the textbook and readings. The exams will be given in an essay format and there will be four questions in which you will be required to answer all the questions.
